With the ending of the legislative session we've had the opportunity to improve the Team 17 email newsletter list. We're sending this end of session newsletter to the list again as a test (please forgive us if you've already received this).

For those of you that are new to this list we hope that this newsletter is valuable. If you don't wish to be on this list please respond to this message with "Remove" in the subject line and we will remove you.

Annual Legislative Report and Survey

In the coming weeks our annual Legislative Report and Survey will arrive on your doorstep. We hope that you find the content useful. We encourage everyone to please complete the survey located on the back of the report (and online). The more surveys we receive the more the results accurately reflect our community.

In addition to the printed version on the back of the report, the survey will be available online. We'll send a link to you to make it easy for you to take the survey.

Thank you for the honor of representing you in the Idaho Legislature. Your three legislators, known collectively as Team 17 (Senator Werk and Representatives Chew and Killen), have continued our close collaboration to strengthen your voice in the Legislature and work for effective, common sense public policy.

As always, Team 17 represents you with a focus on three key values:

- Fairness and integrity as we stand up for the middle class
- Shared responsibility as we work to improve your quality of life
- Shared accountability as we work for efficient and effective critical service delivery

The 2012 legislative session provided some solid law that we supported. However, the focus of the session was on crafting a framework for the budding oil and gas industry, tax policy, continued ethical lapses and blocked ethics reforms, little focus on job creation, and questionable legislation driven by the new closed primaries. And finally, continued high unemployment and low revenue remain because of poor decisions and a lack of economic vision over the last decade.

Ethics: This year we saw a parade of ethics scandals from the tax and timber woes of Rep. Hart, to Sen. McGee's sexual harassment allegation and resignation, to Sen. Pearce's undisclosed potential conflict of interest (oil and gas leases as he pushed through permissive laws for the industry). Ethics panels are now common - Sen. Werk and Rep. Killen each served on one this year.

With our Democratic colleagues, Team 17 offered seven ethics reform bills this session ranging from an independent ethics commission to personal financial disclosure. Sen. Werk has been active in ethics reform efforts since 2005 and Rep. Chew co-sponsored a number of these ethics bills. Ethics reform efforts were again blocked by majority party leaders. Substantial ethics and cultural reform are needed to restore public trust in state government.

Jobs: Idaho's unemployment and underemployment rate is unacceptably high and once again Team 17 made JOBS a major priority. This focus led us and our colleagues to author, co-sponsor, and support a package of job-creation bills called IJOBS 2.0 – our second Idaho Jobs and Opportunity Blueprint package. Once again, this was the only comprehensive job-creation package in the legislature.

IJOBS 2.0 included bills to favor Idaho companies in government contracts, incentivize agricultural processing, add accountability to corporate tax breaks, reward companies for bringing new businesses to Idaho, improve rural internet service, provide micro-loans for entrepreneurs, and study the feasibility of an Idaho partnership bank. The agricultural processing incentive bill (H606) passed the House and died in the Senate Agricultural Affairs Committee.

We supported the governor's IGEM bill (H546) creating a small fund to help private/public partnerships transfer technology from our universities. This bill resembles our 2010 tech transfer bill (S1278); always glad to lend a hand!

Oil/Gas Development and Hydraulic Fracturing (Fracking): There's gold (or natural gas) in them thar hills (of southern Idaho)! The discovery of commercial quantities of natural gas in Payette and Washington counties led to a rush to both regulate and enable the industry. While the development of natural gas in Idaho could be very beneficial to our budget, we must adequately regulate development to ensure that the benefits outweigh the environmental and human costs. A balance unfortunately not struck here or in many other states (as witnessed by the fracking debate).

Sen. Werk (a geologist) had a front row seat in the Resources and Environment committee as new rules were developed and five pieces of legislation passed. Overall the regulations enhance some environmental protections but allow the kind of fracking suspected of contaminating wells and property. Sen. Werk's bills to ban cancer causing chemicals in fracking and require consideration of the health, safety, and welfare of our citizens when regulating the industry were defeated. A controversial bill limiting local control while clearing the way for fracking (H464) passed despite our no votes.

Budget: While our revenue picture improved, critical services remain on life support. As we predicted last year, the majority party underestimated revenue while schools, higher education, and health were compromised. This year, not surprisingly, there was extra money just in time for elections! However, slashing services last year led directly (as we predicted) to more property tax levies, and increased prison populations and taxpayer costs this year.

Public Schools: The cap on charter schools was lifted and we attempted to detach teacher pay from computer purchases. Sen. Werk voted for the anti-bullying bill (S1358) while Rep. Chew helped organize an effort to force a vote on the bill in the House. Overall there was minimal activity concerning public schools this year. Everyone seemed to be waiting to see whether the Luna bills (passed last year) will be repealed by the People when they vote in November. Team 17 actively opposed the Luna bills and supports repeal so we can pass reforms that actually enhance student achievement.

Higher Education: This year we were thankful for a reasonable (8.6% general fund) increase in the higher education budget. Over the last three years higher education was cut 26%! Economic data confirm that investing in higher education is the most efficient way to provide rewarding career opportunities and move Idaho's economy into the 21st century.

Health Services: We supported the small restoration in critical health services in H609. In addition, Rep. Chew worked hard to champion efforts by law enforcement and pharmacists to stop meth labs.

Senior Citizen Issues: Team 17 respects the many seniors we represent. We understand that seniors are very concerned about issues that impact their rights and services. This year we opposed another attack on your health care directives (S1348). In addition, we authored and supported bills to reduce your property taxes (S1249 by Werk and H584).

Too Much Government: The escalation of the War on Women by the majority party continued with bills targeted at women of child-bearing age. H530 and HJM010 sought to deny women the right to decide whether they could obtain health insurance coverage suited to their needs. S1387 went even further by mandating a potentially invasive ultrasound as a precondition to terminating a pregnancy regardless of rape, incest, etc. The party of "small government" continues government expansion eroding our individual freedoms and liberty. Your team opposed all of these efforts.

Team 17 Efforts: Together the team helped develop and co-sponsor the IJOB's 2.0 bills. Team efforts on substantial ethics reform included the Lobbyist Restriction Act (S1235), the Idaho Conflict of Interest Act (S1238), and the Honest Leadership and Open Government Act (S1246). Sen. Werk also authored the Idaho Public Official Accountability Act (S1245) and The Pay to Play Act (S1244). All of these efforts were blocked by majority leaders. Representative Killen continued his bipartisan effort to level the playing field for local business by collecting sales taxes owed on internet/catalogue sales (H581). Rep. Chew continued her efforts on pharmacy, prescription drug safety, and efficiencies in public health. Sen. Werk's years-long effort to ban texting while driving finally paid off (S1252 passed as S1274a) while his bill to require a public hearing on each special interest tax giveaways - S1248 – again didn't get a hearing. On a very sad note we mark the retirement of Rep. Killen. Bill has been a tireless and effective voice for fairness and common sense in the House. He will be missed by those who served with him and those that he represented so well.

Again we want to stress what an honor it is to represent you in the Idaho legislature. We appreciate all of the visits to our weekly office hours, the attendance at our four public forums, and the thousands of phone calls, emails, and letters. This input helped us to better represent you and our community. For all of this we are grateful.
